As technology advances, people are looking to dispose of older products in favor of newer devices. But did you know that state law now requires consumers to recycle electronic waste (e-waste) the safe and environmentally sound way? By preventing e-waste from entering the waste stream, we are protecting our environment from toxic materials. In the Town of Hempstead, residents can dispose of their e-waste through the E-Cycling program!

What Can I E-Cycle?

All televisions, computers, computer components, monitors, tablets, e-readers, electronic keyboards, mice, fax machines, scanners, printers, VCRs, DVRs, DVD players, digital converter boxes, cable or satellite receivers, electronic and video game consoles and portable digital music players. Cell phones are NOT accepted.

For questions about E-Cycling, please call (516) 378-4210.

Waste from commercial establishments, schools, churches, synagogues or home businesses will not be accepted.
No commercial vehicles.

Shredding Disposal

At each of the four E-Cycling Programs scheduled this year, residents may bring their personal papers and confidential documents to be shredded. Shredding services are free and open to Town residents only; no shredding from commercial or home businesses will be accepted. Materials to be shredded should be brought in paper bags or cardboard boxes. Please, no plastic bags.
